Summary

Hi everyone! My name is Mohamed Mohamed Abdelmonem and I am currently studying Management Information Systems at M.E.T. I am a 20-year-old Django developer with a passion for building high-quality web applications.

While I may not have years of experience under my belt yet, I am constantly learning and growing my skills in order to become the best developer I can be. I am excited to continue my journey in the tech industry and work on projects that have a positive impact on people's lives.

If you are looking for a dedicated and hardworking developer, please don't hesitate to reach out to me. I am always open to new opportunities and challenges!
